

Green with Envy

By p76 Admirer

The crowd stopped and gazed in delight
As a green leyland swept into sight
The chrome shone and green Duco gleamed
It moved like a bird so it seemed
Clean flowing lines gave it plenty of style
It effortlessly cruised for mile after mile
The vehicles engine was certainly good
It handled well as a great car should
P76 fever hit Foster High School
And all admired it except "Razzle" the fool
Despite his poems and writings in jest
The P76 was proved to be best
The luxury interior really looked beaut
And people admired that cavernous boot
So soon there were more
Yellow, tan, white and cream
As well as the original P76 green
